DAY BY DAY

Each bar is one day: the sum of that day's symptom ratings, taller for a harder day. The mark underneath is a period day. A flat line is a day without an entry.

THE WEEK BEFORE EACH PERIOD AGAINST DAYS 4 TO 10

Average rating per symptom, 0 (none) to 3 (severe). “Before” is the 7 days before each recorded period start. “Days 4–10” counts the first day of bleeding as day 1.

IN HER OWN WORDS, ON THE HARDEST DAYS

> 2 September 2026
> “Snapped at Tom over nothing, cried after.”

> 3 September 2026
> “Could not get out of bed, cancelled work.”

> 4 September 2026
>
> “Everything feels pointless today, so tired.”

How this was recorded. Entries were made by the patient in the Tideline app on the day itself or the day after; older days cannot be edited. Symptoms are self-rated mild, moderate or severe (1–3); an unrated symptom counts as 0 on a day with an entry.

This is a record of daily entries. It is not a diagnosis and makes no clinical judgement.
